

Undressing engine

Having ordered a boat-load of engine-related parts, I started to prepare the engine for it. This consists mostly of removing parts from it and cleaning it up.

The exhaust headers, thermostat outlet and the flexplate all need to be replaced by specific parts, either specifically made to fit the GD (like the exhaust headers) or modified to fit into the engine bay.

